NASHVILLE, TN (March 21, 2016) – PhyMed Healthcare Group, a physician-led and owned leader of anesthesia and pain management services, today announced it has been named to the 2016 edition of the Becker's Healthcare "150 Great Places to Work in Healthcare" list. The list features both U.S. healthcare provider organizations, such as hospitals, health systems, ambulatory surgical centers and home health agencies, as well as other types of healthcare-specific companies, including consulting firms, health IT vendors, medical societies and more.

"We are thrilled to be included on the '150 Great Places to Work in Healthcare' list again this year," said Sami S. Abbasi, president and chief executive officer of PhyMed Healthcare Group. "We remain committed to providing top-quality patient care and maintaining a high-quality work environment for all of our physicians and employees. As we continue to grow and expand, quality healthcare will stay a top priority for our company."

The "150 Great Places to Work in Healthcare" list has been published every year since 2011, but this is the third year the list features both providers and non-provider organizations. The Becker's Healthcare editorial team selected the organizations included on this year's list. Organizations that submitted nominations were considered, as were organizations that received national, state or local recognition previously earned for workplace excellence.
