

PhyMed Healthcare Group expands Leadership Team to Accelerate Company Growth

NASHVILLE, TN — PhyMed Healthcare Group, a physician-led and owned leader of anesthesia and pain management services, has added two new members to its leadership team in realization of recent and expected growth of the company. Stephen Lorenz is executive vice president, focused on operations and strategic development. Stephen Mason is vice president of operations, focused on leading operations in multiple markets throughout the U.S.

Lorenz has over 25 years of healthcare leadership experience with hospitals and multi-hospital systems in the assessment of practice cost, performance, organization and revenue cycle management. He also has extensive experience leading and creating models for new business development in markets across the U.S. Previously, Lorenz had been executive vice president at HNI Healthcare, Inc. in Austin, Tex., and president and CEO of Hospital Resources Management in Dallas.

Mason has been involved in anesthesia and multi-specialty practice management for more than 25 years, leading the growth and mergers of several large practices. His experience includes revenue cycle management, payer auditing, healthcare data analytics, hospital and practice administration, healthcare consulting, physician contracting and hospital professional services contracting. Most recently, he was senior vice president for the audit division at Managed Care Advisory Group in Toledo, Ohio.

“Adding these two experienced professionals will support us in achieving our aggressive growth strategy,” said Marty Bonick, president and chief executive officer of PhyMed Healthcare Group. “Steve Lorenz brings a strong history of building and managing growth plus experience in hospital-based physician service lines. Steve Mason has an outstanding track record in practice administration, contracting and physician relations. They will play key roles in helping us achieve our goals for growth, clinical excellence and efficiency.”
